

VIRTUAL MEETING POINT

Where Meetings Always Ride Success!

Desktop User Experience (UX) Design v1.0

Generated by Eric M. Scharf on 11-03-2015

'Virtual Meeting Point (VMP)' will be the one stop virtual meeting shop for all Mars business units. VMP will be a SharePoint-driven desktop-only site that leverages Skype. Given users will be able to join existing virtual meeting 'lobbies' – via invitation from given lobby admins – and select one or more specific 'meeting rooms' to join for their virtual meetings. Users will also be able to create, customize, and admin their own VMP lobbies.

The UX design that follows is displayed by 'user story' (scenario) – showing the role of the given user (admin or user) and step-by-step demonstration of the goal(s) that person seeks to accomplish.

The final VMP solution will NOT utilize SSO (Single Sign-On) due to a lack of SSO implementation experience – within the targeted Microsoft Azure environment – by available development resources.

Displayed content / available selections are informal examples used ONLY to convey site functionality.

USER STORY SAMPLE 01

As an Admin, I want to . . .

. . . to be able to log into a virtual meeting site . . .

. . . so that . . .

. . . the site responds with a log in mechanism that also displays Admin and User lobbies.

USER STORY SAMPLE 14

As an Admin, I want to . . .

. . . be able to create a new Skype call for one of the meeting rooms within one of my virtual meeting lobbies . . .

. . . for the meeting room I select, I can (A) schedule that call, (B) view the meeting room calendar for the given meeting room to review all scheduled calls for the given day or month, (C) delete a given call from that calendar, and (D) edit the agenda for a given call.
